SALES Selling is a vital activity in any industry. Road transport is no different. This involves in selling cars, trucks, motorcycles, their parts and accessories, fuel or space for goods on a vehicle and other related services. Selling is exciting, rewarding and can offer good promotional activities.

WHOLESALE One of the major activities in road transport is the wholesaling and retailing of parts and accessories with a constantly increasing range of products, and use of stock rotating systems, computers etc.

The parts industry is a fairly young business - years ago it was classed as a stores, around the back of a garage but now the function of a modern parts department is not to store but to sell - to sell the maximum volume of goods per annum at the most net profit to the Company.

WAREHOUSING With the ever increasing number of warehouse in and around South Yorkshire we are able to find placements and employment with major employers within the logistics field. NVQ's are available within this area
